CLUE AS TO DYNAMITERS OF FLOWERS HOME SECURED

AND WATCHED HOUSE LAST NIGHT. CAUSE STILL UN-KNOWN FOR CRIME

No clue has yet been found as to the dynamiters of the J. D. Flowers residence on North Oates Street of Tuesday night were and a reason for the act still remains. It has been generally agreed by the contractors that the explosion was placed by an amateur at the bushes on account of the way explosion acted and they state that it has been confined or propagated that it came from building No. 2 which demolished or shattered so much that it would have been necessary to rebuild. The explosion, judging from appearances, placed openly in the fire place by the failure to confine it did do as much damage as would have resulted had it been recovered.

The building is being repaired as fast as possible and will be occupied by the family when completed.

Didn't Like the Word

He was the proprietor of a New York restaurant and he was visiting relatives in Boston.

Well Uncle said one of the household we want you to feel as much at home here as if you were in your own restaurant.

The Gloom Guest

The best man noticed that one of the wedding guests a gloomy looking young man did not seem to be enjoying himself. He was wandering about as though he had lost his last friend. The best man took it upon himself to cheer him up.

"Ever—have you kissed the bride?" he asked by way of introduction.

"Not lately," replied the gloomy one with a far away expression—short stories.

An Endless Chain

My mother's awful generous said the New Boy. She knows I hate to take my coat over all so she gives me a nickel every time I take it.

"How often do you take it?" queried the Other Boy.

"Three times a day. Get slighted the other in hope less envy of such wealth. Fifteen cents a day! How do you ever spend it all?"

"I don't. She takes care of it for me. And when there are enough nickels to make a dollar in."

"Hands it over to you."

broken but no other damage was done.

When the explosion first occurred, Tuesday night it was thought that a cyclone had struck the city and when a lady in the neighborhood arranged quite a lot of confusion delayed for a few seconds until the smell of dynamite filled the air. After a search of a few minutes it was found that it was the Flowers home that had suffered.

The building is being repaired as fast as possible and will be occupied by the family when completed.

HARVEY STEPHENSON BADLY HURT WHEN HEAVY AND MAD CRUSHES HIM

Harvey Stephenson was badly injured this morning when a horse he was riding reared up and fell back upon him. He was taken to his home on Long street and a physician called, but up to the present the extent of his injuries, which are internal, are unknown.

Stephenson was riding the young colt of his father, J. S. Stephenson of the Dothan Carriage Company when the animal reared up and fell back on the boy's body, crushing him beneath.

On a warrant charging him with breaking into J. P. Gaston, a negro porter of the M. A. Lillian Drug Company's store, was arrested this afternoon and placed in jail. The warrant was sworn out by Mr. Elston who caught the negro stealing in the store and found on his person a pint of alcohol and other articles. OFFICIALS AT WASHINGTON AD- MIT THAT MOVEMENT ON ISLAND IS CRITICAL

Bogota, May 29.—General Eva Llorente, one of the leaders of the rebels in the province of Oriente led from the front. So important might be the course of the interview that a special correspondent of El Dia is at the subject of the cause and progress of the negro rebellion in his will take chief command.

The primary cause of the uprising is the failure of the government to repeal the Moreau law which provides that there shall be no recognition of political parties or no organization of political parties or no volunteers in Cuba's province with its next few days. The report that the government would must be another believed to have been continued with the fact that President Gomez has issued a large number of rifles to law abiding citizens to protect their property against attacks from rebels.

It is admitted here that the movement is becoming worse in Oriente with the probability that the flames of insurrection may burst out again among other provinces when the other forces are believed to have been quelled.

If the Americans intervene they will recognize me and my followers as a political party. We are prepared to continue fighting, winter or summer.

All the responsibility for intervention must rest on the shoulders of President Gomez and the government.

The rebel forces are reported to have organized a regiment in Havana and the standard they are using is that which was displayed by General Manuel de Copeles who in 1865 headed an armed revolution against the Spaniards.

At the government offices it is declared that no news had been received of the arrival of General Estenoz tomorrow when he will be in the arrival of General Jose Montanez.

Situation is Worse

Washington, May 29.—Doubt is expressed here that the Cuban government will have 8,000 troops and volunteers in Oriente province with its next few days. YOUNG DAUGHTER OF J. D. CARR RUNS AS NEGRO MAN CHASES AT HER

On a warrant charging him with assault with intent to rape, Ben Johnson, a negro porter, was arrested today and placed in the county jail to await investigation. His alleged victim would be the 7 year old daughter of J. D. Carr who lives in the southwestern part of the city and the deed was committed Saturday afternoon last. No trouble is expected yet as Johnson will likely have an alibi this afternoon as the proprietor of the Muller hotel where he worked declared that he was on duty all Saturday afternoon and was not drinking as the little girl declares her assailant was Johnson asked to be placed in jail today for safe keeping until he could prove his innocence, which he seems to be perfectly confident will result.

The little girl alleges that she was enticed to a barn south Alton street where the negro declared he was feeding cows and that she and several other little companions went. When they arrived at the barn she declared that the negro had grabbed her but she ran, he tearing her clothes as she did. She claimed that the negro gave her name as Ben Johnson and that he told her when other members of his family worked one of whom he declared was an auto driver. Although Johnson's brother is a chauffeur he does not work at the place where she said he worked at the time she was working at the time she stated that the negro proved to be in a drunken condition after reaching the barn.

Mr Carr, the father of the little girl has kept the matter quiet in hope of satisfying the negro before he knew of the report and today called at the Muller hotel for John Carr who went with him to the office. Mr Carr later awoke aware a warrant charging the negro with assault and attempt to rape but before the warrant was secured John Carr asked to be placed in jail to avoid a possible injury at the hands of the angry father.

The negro was not taken before the girl for identification. The officer in charge today stated that they did not know the name of the negro.

The negro is described as being of medium height and weight, with dark skin, short hair, and a prominent nose. He is reported to be a member of the Negro Legion, African American Legion, and is located in this vicinity.

WILSON END ZOOKEEPER

WIN IN NEW JERSEY

Newark, N. J., May 29.—Theodore Roosevelt on the republican side and Governor Wilson on the democratic were overwhelming winners in yesterday's state primaries according to nearly complete returns.

To allow this crime to go without finding the guilty will give the town a bad name that means much.

We hope the officials will do their full duty.

There is too much lawlessness in this town. There are too many petty crimes committed almost every day.

The result exceed the Roosevelt's expectations. In some districts he received ten votes to every one for Wilson.

Wilson's triumph on the Democratic side was as nearly complete as Roosevelt's. The governor had four delegates. These four will go to Baltimore unopposed. Wilson has the other twenty-four.

His Wilson vote was a staggering blow to the old Wilson men. Wilson beat his opponents by six to one.

The old timers were negligible.

The vote in all sections was exceedingly high. Some counties cast less than half of the total vote registered.

South Dakota is the only other state in which the primaries will be held before the national convention.

Mr. Shifford and Littleton planned through the city today enroute to Cairo from Columbia.

J. D. Flowers went to Jackson to day.

From men work little more than at their trade but little about it.

The man who wants to join his mother in a political way and wants to do it bad enough to get out of work in one who has been roughly striped of it, without a sufficient apology being offered.

PROVERBS

Friend of deceit is to a man but afterwards his mouth will be filled with crevices.

An old timer may be gotten easily at the beginning but the end thereof shall not be blessed.

The glory of young men is their strength and the beauty of old men is their gray head.

The getting of treasure by a lying tongue is a vanity tossed to and fro of them that seek death.

When the sinner is to be punished the simple is made wise.

HOW WE HIDE OUR NEWS ITEMS.

It is wonderful how newspaper men get in the habit of judging news. They all have a habit of putting news up in an attractive shape and what one considers news or good newspaper reading another man might think differently about the boy.

One day Mark went to see a friend at his office and the office boy on guard, in high tones said:

Who do you wish to see?

Mary mentioned his friend's name.

What do you wish to see him about? came next from the boy.

Mark Twain immediately froze up and then with a genial smile he said:

Tell him please I want to ask his hand in holy matrimony — Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph

I UNDERSTOOD THIS LANGUAGE

From Indianapolis News.

An Indianapolis public school teacher some time ago she relates, received in her room a small boy from the Kentucky Tennessee borderland and she set about teaching him the intricacies of addition. She found he could run up or down columns readily but she could not make him understand how to carry from one column to another when the total was more than nine.

Finally the teacher called on one of the little girls of the class and told her she would give her a dime if she could make the newest understand the process. Next day the little girl failed to claim the money.

How did you make him see it so quickly? Inquired the teacher.

Oh I told him when I set a number of two figures to put down the one on the right and toted the other across, and he knew what I meant right away.

When your friends ask for your opinion about a thing, just around till you find out what he expects to do about it and then give him that advice. People who ask for advice already know what they are going to do.

POLITENESS.

Being polite is no cheap till few people foot with it. It cost something, or if there was a penalty for filthy and dangerous insect is a polite end. The house fly in addition to about so long, till they pay no more attention to it than they do the sheep, the hog and the vulture. Fourth of July talk.

We sometimes think that parents don't spend enough time on their children driving them to lessons in business.

Politely the children should be taught to consider people. In third place, the child should be taught to speak the truth.

The child should learn in a general amount to nothing when it reaches point. One can be a good example when he observes all the rules of grammar but he has to say words.

Young Women

Read what Cardui did for Miss Myria Engler, of Paribull, Minn. She says: "Let me tell you how much good Cardui has done me. As a young girl, I always had to suffer so much with all kind of pain. Sometimes, I was so weak that I could hardly stand on my feet. I got a bottle of Cardui, at the drug store, and as soon as I had taken a few doses, I began to feel better. Today, I feel as well as anyone can."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Are you a woman? Then you are subject to a large number of troubles and irregularities, peculiar to women, which, in time, often lead to more serious trouble.

A tonic is needed to help you over the hard places, to relieve weakness, headache, and other unnecessary pains, the signs of weak nerves and over work.

For a tonic, take Cardui, the woman's tonic.

You will never regret it, for it will certainly help you. Ask your druggist about it. He knows. He sells it.

BASEBALL RECORDS WORTH A THOUGHT

Here are some of the base ball records made in the old days which the veterans delight to talk over:

In the thirteen years between 1877 and 1900, "Silver Flint" caught 835 games, and in 83 of them he wore neither mask glove nor chest protector.

In the sixteen seasons between 1876 and 1892, Adriatic C. Anson played in 1,682 games and made 2,722 hits. His batting average for the entire six years was .344.

In '95 Boston won every game played on the home grounds.

In 1885 games covering twelve consecutive seasons Mike Kelley had a batting average of .321.

Hugh Duffy, with the Boston club in 1889, had the unprecedented batting average of .388.

The first night game ever pitched was by Joseph Mann of Princeton, N. J., against Yale Nov. 2, 1878. The game was played in 1878.

LOST ONLY ONE LONG GAME

Russell Ford Defeated in One Extra Innings Contest Since Starting in American League

Russell Ford wins a record of all the games he has pitched, up to figures to controvert assertions that his delivery is sure to be weakening on his arm.

"I have lost only one extra-inning game since I've been in the American league," said Ford, "and that was my first one."

Ford thus produced the following record of the extra-inning battles from the archives: 1916 lost in ten innings to Mullin of Detroit, score 4 to 3; won from Walsh of Chicago in 11 innings, score 3 to 2; 1911, won in 12 innings, from Walsh score 4 to 3, won in 11 innings from Walker of Washington, score 5 to 1; won from Ruth of Cleveland in 12 innings, score 1 to 1.

VIN CAMPBELL IS TOO FAST

Itan Himself Off Pittsburgh Team by His Eagerness to Capture Files In the Field

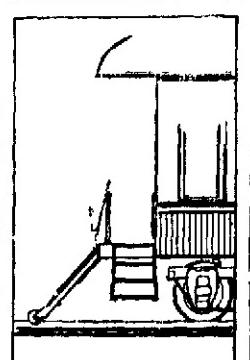

Vin Campbell who was traded by the Pirates to Boston for Mike Donlin literally ran himself off in Pittsburgh club. At least such is the opinion of Moderate Men.

Campbell has speed lots of speed in the outfield his speed was a menace, and at times he had Fred Clarke in fear of his life. Ordinarily when a ball is hit into the doubtful territory between two outfields one of them

PLACES TORPEDO ON TRACK

Arrangement Recently Put in Operation Doubts Away with Necessity of Stopping Train

Since the railroads adopted the torpedo method of signaling there have been various devices for the placing of torpedoes along the tracks. The object of course, was to drop the torpedo without stopping the train and without exploding the missile. A Kansas man has invented a missile which has a carriage extending to the rear flat form of a train to the track above it will stop well to the other and let him have it. Not so Campbell.

As a result Clark was not sorry to get rid of the youngster for already he had told Mike Donlin that Campbell deserved according to his services about $1,000 a year.

The record he is given is in his mind at the present time. He never put the whole right on little old but was the first to start it. As a result he is to bring him up to his possibilities and let all the younger than Donlin know to leave him then the exit in expected to be

Relay Train Fault

Charles' Victory Road lays his splendid condition to White Hall of the Brooklyn team. While at Hall Springs he was told that Helly was a famous trainer and he immediately enlisted to him. Daily he visited Helly's room for his advice concerning the condition of his muscles. In about a week he used the remedy every evening. After a month he was fit again and could run around the field.

Freak Double Play

Tom Sulli in a double play at Waco on a passed ball. First we were out and second when the ball got away from Sulli on. He recovered quickly and ran down the line. Then he could return to third. He whipped the ball to Waco's who turned it and Sullivan caught the ball and just as he tried to slide into third base

WANTED TO KNOW TOO MUCH

Others Than This Veteran Engineer Have Been Annoyed in the Same Way by Listeners

Old Mr. McClelland was engineer on the train that ran from Summerville, S. C., to Columbia over one of the first railroad tracks laid in that country. And as he grew old and childish his mind unable to distinguish what he imagined from what really happened went back constantly to his engine and that wonderful feat he could perform with it. One hot afternoon in the shade of a live oak before a crowd of spectators he told his stories of former greatness to forty or fifty people.

One old deader old the old man I run the first engine ever run. It was a engine for in I happen how to the it. Why we here Jerry whenever a train blows down across the track I not or waited to stop it away. No sir not me—I just closed the air valves and pitched the engine over—that's what I done!

But Mr. McClelland finally ex- postulated the residents of Terrell after you had got the engine over how did you git the cuts over?

The old man leaned back and looked at his questioner with great scorn. Go to the devil Jerry, he cried. You ask such foolish questions! —Kansas City Star

VIVID DREAM PROVED REALITY

To Impression Made on Section Foreman Was Due the Saving of Passenger Train

Awakened by a dream that a near by freight had been washed away a section foreman on the Southern rail road living in Atlanta, Ga., who had been confined to his bed for some days, arose before dawn one recent morning and proceeded to the scene of his dream only to find that it was a reality for the stream swollen by heavy rains had cut through a tree trunk across a foot of debris.

The man knew that a passenger train en route from Atlanta to St. Louis soon was due to arrive at the opposite side of the river but he had no means of reaching that point to warn the engineer of his danger and the river is three-quarters of a mile wide. Standing on the bank he put his hands to his hips and repeatedly hollered for half an hour. Finally he hollered an awfully shout and he called out a warning to the man who had heard him. The latter flagged the train just as it neared the bridge of the stream.

DOGS KILL BEGGAR WOMAN

Refused Food by Servants She Faints in Garden Dies Next Day After Rescue by Prince

Rome.—A pitiful tragedy occurred recently in the beautiful gardens that enclose Prince Russo's villa on the Flaminian Way outside the gates of Rome. A poor beggar woman on the verge of starvation ventured up the main walk to ask alms at the hill handsomely lighted villa. Inside which Prince Russo was giving a dinner in honor of a professor newly nominated to the International Institute of Agriculture.

Shriven away with harsh epithets by merciless attendants the poor woman was wending her way back towards the massive iron gates when overcome with hunger and fatigue she appears to have fallen into a sworn just inside the entrance.

About midnight piercing shrieks and the barking of dogs brought the prince and a body of relatives out side with lanterns and revolvers in the belief that burglars were breaking into the place. Soon however they came upon a scene of horror. A couple of ferocious mastiffs let loose earlier in the evening had scented out and devoured the body of the woman which they were furiously tearing to pieces. The victim expired in the hospital the following day. She was seventy two years old.

between the old and the modern locomotives of today, the early locomotives could haul about 10 of the small freight cars of that time while the modern locomotives can run away with 30 or more of double the capacity of the old cars.

In the old days locomotives had been considerably developed from the crude machines on wheels of the 30's when they ed into New England.

The Gardiner and first locomotive to due in 1816 on the W & F. V. Rail in New England was built in a pair of driving leading wheels no weight they weighed I could run only in bed had no never. The rails were of later improved by them to a great improve engines and reprobate locomotives con-

How Sun Yat Sen Got Money.
In his "Reminiscences" Sun Yat Sen gives a graphic account of the efforts that were made to capture him by the former Chinese government. He relates that the rewards upon his head amounted to no less than $10,000. He has raised much money for political purposes, especially in America, and in this connection he says: "All over the world, and particularly in America, the legend has grown up that Chinese are sold and mercenary. There never was a greater fool on a people. Many have given me their whole fortune. One Philadelphia laundryman called at my hotel after a meeting, and thrusting a bill bag upon me, went away with a word. It contained his entire savings for 20 years."

Cigarette Barrel.

Did you know on having 'live, bon-et and sober' included in the marriage service?"

"No," replied Mr. Ellington; "the only thing I made my wife promise was that she wouldn't smoke in the house."

MADE INTO VACUUM CLEANER

Simple Device by Which a Locomotive Adds Greatly to Its Term of Usefulness.

An ingenious apparatus by means of which a locomotive is converted into a vacuum-cleaning plant is shown in the accompanying illustration. It comprises simply a suction chamber attached to the injector valve of the locomotive, a steam trap for the condensation of water, a dust collector, which is kept partially filled with water, and the necessary amount of hose and types of suction tips or nozzles. The steam trap and dust collecting of the new seal is provided by a single 25-watt tungsten lamp suspended from a trolley through a resistance. A high speed centrifugal horse power motor drives the mechanism, the motor being designed to operate safely through a wide variation of line voltage. Enough heat is furnished by the lamp and its resistance to prevent the accumulation of ice on the lens and mechanism.

TO OPEN UP RICH COUNTRY

New Connecting Line to Montevideo Will Care for Traffic of Important River Cities.

The American minister at Montevideo reports that work has just been started on a connecting 55-mile line of the Midland Railroad company from Fray Bentos to Piedra Sola, in the department of Tacuarembó, the contract announcement of which appears in Daily Consular and Trade Reports for January 12, 1912. The constructor is Engineer Juan Stein, a well-known railroad builder. He is working a force of 600 men and expects to have the new line ready for operation in about a year. The 91-mile line from Fray Bentos to Algodón finished last year, was also built by Stein.

The new line, although comparatively short, is of great importance, especially in the river cities of Fray Bentos and Paysandú, as it will give a railway straight through line to the border city of Rivera, the northernmost point of the department of Rivera. Paya-dua, with upward of 20,000 inhabitants, is probably the greatest live stock center of Uruguay. Fray Bentos, the capital of the department of Rio Negro, is a city of some 8,000 people. It has been made a port of entry, which will add greatly to its importance as a distributing point.

New Accessories.
Chantilly and Malines lace are among the newest ideas for veils, particularly the cream white tones, which are becoming against the skin. Some of these are long, draped gracefully round the hat and hanging at the back.

The return of the wristline has given opportunity for the display of neat belts. These are in suede and patent leather, quite narrow, and the more decorative are adorned with jewels. Jeweled shoes are also a fashionable fad of the moment. Diamonds and other precious stones adorn shoes of gold and silver brocade and duchess lace.

New Type of Block Signal.
A new type of automatic block signal, which is being used on an interurban electric railway west of Cleveland, U. S., is believed to furnish a solution of the problem of operating a block system in cold weather. During the last winter the various railroads experienced considerable difficulty owing to the accumulation of ice and frost on the signal lamps. The vector are connected by means of a hose of large diameter, and the suction hose is attached to the bottom of the dust collector.

When the injector valve is opened the live steam passes the opening of the suction chamber and creates a vacuum therein, which produces the suction drawing the dust and dirt into the dust collector where it is retained by the water. The air, after unloading its burden of dirt, then passes into the steam trap and is exhausted into the atmosphere. With a sufficient length of hose, several passenger coaches can be vacuum cleaned by simply backing the locomotive up to one end. The apparatus is used on one of the German railroads.—Popular Mechanics
